IFLA

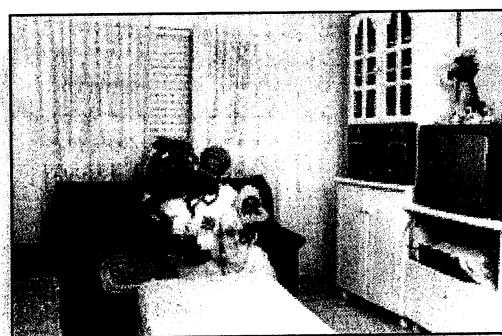

A loan is better than charity...

The Israel Free Loan Association

Your Gift that Never Ends

Since parts of the IFLA's overhead expenses are covered by occasional grants, 98% of your contribution goes for loans to the people we help.

Home loans to Ethiopian immigrants help them get out of caravans into permanent housing.

But more than that: Your gift to the IFLA is a gift in perpetuity. Because all loan repayments are immediately loaned out again to help others, your contribution continues to circulate through the years ahead. A gift, for example, of $10,000 recycled in the course of 10 years provides 100 loans of $1,000 each - resulting in a "helping value" of $100,000!

In view of our waiting list of loan applicants, we urgently need new contributions. Your gift to the IFLA may be earmarked for any of our existing loan categories, or for general loans. General contributions enable us to respond to urgent needs which do not currently fit into existing categories.

Because of our excellent record of reliability and accountability in administering funds, hundreds of donors have chosen to use the IFLA for direct donations and for operating their charitable loan programs in Israel.

All our transactions regarding loans and repayments are fully computerized, allowing us to provide contributors with reliable and up-to-date records at any time. Donations are tax-exempt in Israel and overseas to the maximum allowed by law.

If you want to help Israel in a way that's better than charity, we urge you to consider giving loans through the IFLA.
